CYBERSECURITY – VIRTUAL DESKTOP DRILL

Today we propose you to participate to the first edition of the lottery virtual desktop drill. All of you are requested to participate via polls, thinking about the scenario we propose and the action you would reasonably take. Your active participation is at the core of this exercise. Through your feedback we will be able to deploy the scenario, follow the critical situation step-by-step, and reach a conclusion. The exercise is facilitated with the presence on stage of facilitator and experts that will animate the debate and provide input for further discussion and analysis.

Below the list of people you will see on stage.

Facilitator

Arjan VAN'T VEER, EL Secretary General

Experts on stage (in alphabetical order)*

Anton STIGLIC, Managing Director of IT, Loto-Québec (Canada)

Cecilio VAZQUEZ, Director of IT, SELAE (Spain)

David BODA, Head of Information Security, Camelot UK Lotteries Ltd. (UK)

David SELIER, Former Head of Communications at Staatsloterij and Holland Casino (the Netherlands)

Philippe VLAEMMINCK, EL Legal Advisor (Belgium)

Robert NITZ, Director of Information Security, Multi-State Lottery Association (USA)

* People on stage are there to stimulate the debate during the cybersecurity exercise. They should not be perceived as representatives of their respective company for the purposes of the desktop drill.
