

SHAPING THE FUTURE OF LOTTERIES

DUBLIN, IRELAND
SEPTEMBER 25 – 27, 2024

Hosted by

Once again, this year, EL and WLA invite you to their annual Sustainability-RG seminar, entitled "Shaping the Future of Lotteries". Now is the time for companies to face up to the challenges ahead and put in place the tools to do so.

NEW: an afternoon of breakout sessions will be organized to allow participants to deepen their knowledge in their favourite subject and suppliers will be discussing environmental issues in a panel.

There will also be several high-profile keynotes, as well as presentations on the latest developments in our sector.

Michelle L. Malkin, JD, PhD, is an Assistant Professor of Criminal Justice and Criminology and the Director of the Gambling Research and Policy Initiative (GRPI) at East Carolina University. Dr. Malkin's research interests include a focus on gambling-related harms, gambling-motivated crime, and the gambling prevalence, behavior, and risk of historically oppressed, marginalized, and under-researched populations.

Vincenzo Rana is the co-founder and CEO of KNOBS, a consultancy and software development firm specializing in blockchain technology. He also serves as a university lecturer and is a researcher at the Blockchain & Web3 Observatory of the Politecnico di Milano. Moreover, he holds 4 blockchain-related patents and is the author of more than 80 international publications.
