TOTOLOTEK, INTRALOT'S SUBSIDIARY IN POLAND RENEWS EL RESPONSIBLE GAMING CERTIFICATION

April 17th, 2018

INTRALOT Group proudly announces that its subsidiary in Poland, Totolotek S.A., one of the leading and the longest operating omni-channel betting companies in Poland, has been recertified by the European Lotteries for its commitment to EL Responsible Gaming principles. EL recertifies operators every three years, with Totolotek first receiving certification for its responsible gaming programmes in 2015.

On the occasion of the accreditation, Mr. Adam Lamentowicz, CEO of Totolotek, stated: "INTRALOT Group fosters responsible gaming as a means of sustainable growth. Our recertification is a great achievement and recognition of Totolotek's cross-functional efforts to always adhere to the principles of responsible gaming. We work with EL to continuously improve our RG programmes and support the lottery community to the fight against illegal gambling."

Mr. Edmundo Martinho, Chair of the European Lotteries CSR/Responsible Gaming Committee, congratulated Totolotek underlining: "I would like to thank Totolotek for its commitment to the EL Responsible Gaming standards. Together with our members we always strive to align lottery and betting operations across Europe with the responsible gaming principles for the benefit of the players and the society at whole. Totolotek has been a valuable partner towards this goal."

Totolotek has successfully passed the certification through an external audit carried out by the independent EL-approved assessor TUV for offering players the highest standards of responsible gaming operations.

The European Lotteries is the umbrella organisation of national lotteries operating games of chance for public benefit. EL brings together state-owned and private operators, both profit and non-profit, who offer gambling and betting services in the jurisdictions in which they are licensed by the respective national government.
